Message from the Dean

“It is a great privilege to serve as the eighth Dean of the Peter A. Allard School of Law at the University of British Columbia.”

Dean Catherine Dauvergne
Allard School of Law Class of 1995

- + JOINED ALLARD SCHOOL OF LAW IN: 2002
- + DEAN SINCE: 2015
- + AREA OF RESEARCH INTEREST: Immigration, refugee, public and transnational law

Every year we attract some of the brightest minds across the country and around the globe. Why do these individuals choose the Allard School of Law? Because the Allard School of Law provides the opportunity to learn and teach at one of the most beautiful campuses in the world while joining a community that has produced outstanding scholarship with local, national and global impact.

This is an exciting time to be considering a legal career. The national and world economies are becoming increasingly interconnected by complex rules for governing matters that range from international trade to human rights, while new methods of commerce and advances in science and biotechnology challenge traditional legal categories and policies. Our faculty, students and graduates look forward to taking leadership roles in responding to these global challenges while also helping shape the future of our society.

Legal education is, for many of us, a life-changing experience. As you contemplate this adventure, I stand along with all the Allard School of Law faculty, staff, students and alumni, ready to support your learning and your ambitions for the future.

I look forward to the opportunity to meet you in person.

Catherine Dauvergne
Dean and Professor

How to Apply

Complete the online application form at <https://apps.allard.ubc.ca> and submit the following materials:

- 1 PERSONAL STATEMENT
- 2 OFFICIAL TRANSCRIPTS
- 3 LSAT FILE NUMBER
- 4 + ANY OTHER DOCUMENTS that may apply to your specific situation

Deadline to apply for first-year students is December 1.

If you're applying to an upper year, the deadline to apply is April 30.

Admission Requirements

GENERAL APPLICANTS

General applicants must have the following to be eligible for selection:

- + undergraduate degree from a university, or
- + completed three years (minimum 90 credits) from a university, 30 credits of which must be at the upper level

DISCRETIONARY APPLICANTS

Because of special factors in life, you may not satisfy one or more of the requirements for general applicants, but may have other relevant achievements and experience. The Admissions Committee has the discretion to respond to this type of situation by taking into account factors such as disability or special needs, financial disadvantage, membership in a historically disadvantaged group, and any other factors that the applicant wishes the Admissions Committee to consider.

INDIGENOUS LEGAL STUDIES

If you are of First Nations, Inuit or Metis ancestry, you are invited to apply through the Indigenous category.

TO LEARN MORE CONTACT THE ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF INDIGENOUS LEGAL STUDIES, LEE SCHMIDT.
lschmidt@allard.ubc.ca

JD/MBA PROGRAM

Applicants interested in this four-year joint program are required to apply to both the Allard School of Law and the Sauder School of Business. You may indicate your desire to be considered for this joint program on your application form. Scores from both the LSAT and GMAT are required.

FOR MORE DETAILS, VISIT:
allard.ubc.ca/JDadmissions
sauder.ubc.ca/Programs/MBA/Dual_JD-MBA

TRANSFER

Applicants who have started their JD at another Canadian Law School may apply to transfer to the Allard School of Law after completing their first year. If the first year curriculum differs from that offered at UBC, an applicant may be required to complete one or more first year class(es) in conjunction with their upper level classes.

VISITING (LETTER OF PERMISSION)

Students enrolled in a law program at an approved law school may request permission from their current school to attend one year or one term of either the second- or third-year program at the Allard School of Law on a letter of permission basis.

Meet the 2019–2020 Student Ambassadors

Student Ambassadors are current JD students who are here to let you know what life is like as a student at the Allard School of Law. Reach out to them with your questions and if you'd like a tour of Allard Hall, at ambassadors@allard.ubc.ca.

On-Campus Services

As a student at the Allard School of Law, you have access to the many support services at UBC. This includes, but is not limited to:

- + Counselling Services
- + Financial Advising through UBC’s Enrolment Services Advisors (ESA)
- + Health Services
- + UBC First Nations House of Learning

Indigenous Legal Studies

The Associate Director, Indigenous Legal Studies, provides student advising to Indigenous students and those interested in Indigenous legal issues. The ILS Academic Leadership Certificate is comprised of weekly small group academic and leadership sessions and an ILS Coach who provides Indigenous students with academic support. We also coordinate ILS networking and alumni events, and offer cultural and well-being referrals.

We aim to increase awareness and understanding of Indigenous peoples and laws at Allard. The Indigenous Cultural Competency Certificate, multiple workshop series such as ILS Fireside Chats, ILS Crafting and ILS Book Talks, co-hosted speaker series and Indigenous Awareness Week are all curated to meet this aim and are open to the entire Allard Community.

Community

At the Allard School of Law you're part of a vibrant community within Allard Hall and across the UBC campus.

There are numerous ways to get involved. Here are just a few:

Academic Publications

The UBC Law Review and The Canadian Journal of Family Law are journals produced by the Allard School of Law to which students can contribute.

The Law Students' Legal Advice Program

This student-run organization provides free legal advice to those who would not otherwise be able to afford it. It is the largest provider of free legal services in BC and advises 5,000 clients each year at clinics located throughout the Lower Mainland.

Student Clubs & Organizations

There are many opportunities to get involved in student clubs and organizations. Whether it is the Asia Pacific Law Club, Environmental Law Club, or Women's Caucus, you're sure to find something to match your interests.

Student Government

The Allard Law Students' Society and the Indigenous Law Students Association are two forms of student governance you can be involved with. Learn more at allardlss.com and ubcindigenous.com.

Frequently Asked Questions

HOW MANY STUDENTS ARE ACCEPTED? HOW MANY APPLICATIONS DO YOU RECEIVE?

The Allard School of Law will admit 200 students to first year law. Generally, we receive in excess of 1,500 applications. Typically we make 340+ offers to fill approximately 200 positions.

WHAT UNDERGRADUATE COURSES SHOULD I TAKE TO ENSURE I GET INTO THE ALLARD SCHOOL OF LAW?

There is no specific educational background that will guarantee admission into the Allard School of Law. Instead, we suggest that you study in a field that you are interested in, and one in which you will excel. The majority of applicants have a BA or a BSc, but we accept applicants from a variety of programs including Architecture, Criminology, Forestry, Commerce, Science, International Relations, Engineering, etc.

HOW MANY CREDITS DO I NEED TO BE ELIGIBLE TO APPLY IN THE REGULAR CATEGORY?

To be eligible to apply, prospective students must:

- + Have obtained an undergraduate degree in an approved course of studies from an approved university. Diploma or Certificate programs are ineligible; or
- + Have successfully completed the first three years (minimum 90 credits) or more of an approved course of studies leading to an undergraduate degree at an approved university. A full complement of third year level courses must be completed by the end of the Spring Semester.

Applicants completing their third year at the time of the application deadline are eligible under this second option; however, an offer of acceptance will be conditional on the maintenance of the academic average obtained in the first two years of studies. The third year of studies must be completed by the end of the Spring Semester of the year of admission (Spring Semester runs from January to April.)

DO YOU LOOK AT ALL MY MARKS? DO YOU ELIMINATE ANY CREDITS?

When calculating your GPA, we consider all completed courses leading to your first undergraduate degree. However, we do exclude 12 of your worst credits if you have a four-year degree. Generally, this is the equivalent of four semester-long courses, or two year-long courses. If you are in your third year when you apply, we will exclude 6 of your worst credits. Please note that if you are currently enrolled in your final year, those final-year courses will not be included in the calculation of your GPA.

DOES APPLYING EARLY INCREASE MY CHANCE OF RECEIVING AN OFFER?

If we receive a file that is complete and is highly competitive, an offer could be given as early as November. However, we honour the December deadline as well as the January writing of the LSAT. Therefore, we cannot and do not fill all our spots early. Applying early does not increase an applicant's chance of being given an offer, but it does allow us to begin evaluation as soon as possible.

MY MARKS ARE GIVEN ON A 4.33 SCALE OR 4.0 SCALE. HOW DO YOU CONVERT THEM?

We use the same conversion scale used by the UBC Registrar's Office. On that scale, 4.0 is an 86%, 3.7 is an 80%, 3.0 is a 73% 2.0 is a 60%.

DO YOU HAVE AN EXCHANGE PROGRAM?

Through the UBC Go Global Program, we offer an exchange program with leading law schools around the world.

students.ubc.ca/about-student-services/go-global

DO YOU OFFER TOURS OF THE LAW SCHOOL?

Our Allard School of Law Student Ambassadors are available to offer tours to prospective and admitted students.

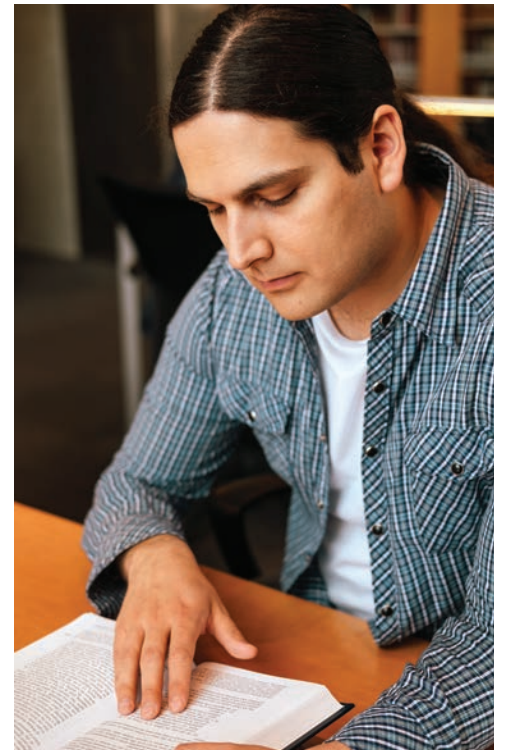

TO BOOK A TOUR EMAIL:

ambassadors@allard.ubc.ca

CAN I DEFER MY STUDIES FOR A YEAR?

We generally only offer deferrals in extenuating circumstances (e.g., medical or compassionate reasons). An applicant wishing to defer their studies should contact the admissions office outlining the reasons for which they are requesting a deferral.
